Alma King Stresses Safety For Thanksgiving Holidays

All who can stress to BYU students is safety, safety, safety, said Alma King, of the BYU Personnel Services.

DIRECTOR KING, who is generally the first at BYU to be notified whenever a BYU student is killed or injured, made the admonition to the students as they prepared to depart for the 1961 Thanksgiving Day festivities at their various homes.

A few reminders to help students drive more carefully include not driving when sleepy and not fully aware of the dangers that might approach, not exceeding the posted speed limit, and by being especially careful on roads that might be icy or slick.

ACTIVITIES HAVE been arranged throughout the weekend for students remaining on the BYU campus for the national holiday.

table tennis and chess. Interested students will be able to sign up for the contests at the main desk in the games room.

A booth will be set up adjacent to the information desk on the main floor and 400 free movie passes for two will be distributed to students who can ask an authentic question concerning the Y Center which the attendant at the booth cannot answer.

Student Art Work Being Shown In Center's Third Level Gallery

The BYU Art Department currently is presenting an exhibit of French drawings in the gallery on the third level of the Harris Fine Arts Center, according to Dean Conan E. Mathews of the College of Fine Arts and Communications.

THE COLLECTION to run through Feb. 15th, has many drawings that have been exhibited in a number of galleries in Romania, France and Germany.

After the collection was brought to the United States at the close of World War II, it was shown at the Mills College Art Gallery, Oakland, Calif., the Art Department of the College of the Ozarks, Arkansas and was for a time circulated by the Western Assoc. of Art Museum Directors.

IN 1930 Dr. O. K. Cosla loaned to Mayrhill Museum in Washington this collection of charcoal, pastel, water colors, and drawings by leading artists of the French school. Later, Dr. Cosla added the fine group of French drawings by other equally well known French painters. With these additions, the Cosla Collection now numbers seventy-odd examples by artists who played a fundamental part in the development of modern art, said Mathews.

THE COSLA COLLECTION, remarkable for its size and variety of interest, is one which is as attractive to the public as to connoisseurs. More than 400 works are represented; several painters not born in France but who are considered French through their training, figure prominently. A few of the earlier works, which have been in the Cosla family for 3 and 4 generations.

Most of the drawings, however, are representatively modern. The Cosla's love for modern French art, and their desire to collect it, grew during their long stay in the capitals of Romania, France and Germany where Dr. Cosla held the post of Professor of Medicine on the faculties of several universities.

GRANT STEVENSON and Norman Wright have asked all those who plan to attend to obtain a genealogical packet from the microfilm room, 451 Clark Library, before noon Sunday.

Rebel Stanleyville Captured Tuesday

LEOPOLDVILLE, CONGO, AP—Belgian paratroopers drove 10 U.S. planes joined Congolese soldiers in capturing rebel Stanleyville Tuesday in the midst of a massacre that by Belgian estimates took 50 lives.

MOWED DOWN BY machine-gun fire in Lumumba Square with rescue only moments away were 15 persons, including Dr. Paul Carlson, medical missionary from Rolling Hills, Calif., and Phyllis Rine, a missionary from Cincinnati, U.S. official reports said.

U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt of Chicago, himself was in the square and reported only the timely arrival of Belgian paratroopers rushing in from the airport staved off a general massacre. Four others of his staff were safe, but attaché Donald Franckes, Bloomfield, Ind., badly beaten by the rebel soldiers. Hoyt also was beaten.

ALL THE OTHER 28 Americans in Stanleyville were safe. Ten of 29 other Americans in rebel hands elsewhere were rescued when Congolese soldiers moving in from the West captured Aketi, 100 miles from Stanleyville. Among them were Mrs. Jeanne Bowman, widow of a missionary from Johnson City, Tenn., and her five children.

An hour after the paratroopers struck in the gray pre-dawn of Tuesday, the Congolese army led by 5 A.M., the Congolese army led by white officers drove into the city from the South. The column had been ambushed in the darkness.

and George Clay, a South African newspaper for the National Broadcasting Company, was shot through the head and killed.

WHILE MOPPING UP, the major concern of the combined forces was to save the survivors among 1,633 foreigners held by the insurgents as hostages.

Refugees flown back from the Congolese capital, many of them blood-stained and in a state of shock, told of the massacre only minutes before Belgian paratroops could reach them.

More than 250 hostages held in the Victoria hotel were herded into Stanleyville's main street at the first sound of U.S. planes striding overhead. They were forced to sit in the gutter of Lumumba Square while rebel troops guarded them.

Kansas City Explosion Claims Two

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — An explosion shattered a three-story apartment building early Tuesday. Nearly 10 hours later the bodies of two small children and a man were found in the rubble.

WHAT HAD BEEN HOME for 35 years was turned into an eggshell of rubble of dangling walls and crumbling floors.

The bodies of Debra Brown, 3, and a man were found in the rubble of a room of bricks and mortar deposited in the street by the blast of a crane.

President Johnson says Up For Congo Rescue

KANSAS CITY, TEX., (AP) — President Johnson was up Monday night, keeping in almost constant touch with the at a time to rescue hostages held by rebels in the Congo.

George E. Healy, White House Secretary, reported Tuesday that Johnson was up until 1 a.m. to which time, Healy said, the situation seemed reasonably "in hand."

THE PRESIDENT was in touch with the State Department during the night.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Johnson was in touch with the State Department during the night.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, Undersecretary of Defense George W. Ball and McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's special assistant for National Security Affairs, were also in touch.

Buddhist Head Pulls Out

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — Buddhist leader disassociated himself from Premier Tran Hung's troubled government Tuesday but indicated he would not actively oppose it.

THE STATEMENT BY the Buddhist leader came on the eve of Ambassador Maxwell's departure for Washington for a review of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

But he is believed to favor the removal of selected targets in the major reservation of Buddhist monks in the north. But he also is known to be recommending such a move.

There must be a stable government in Saigon.

U.S. AID has been carefully weeded out of the government, issued to the press a day-long meeting of the Buddhist hierarchy, said he was at all involved in the formation of the cabinet.

It made a decision of civil disorders that made Saigon uneasy for the past three days.

The frail body of her 22-month-old brother, Cameron Lance Brown, was found by firemen among the wreckage by hand.

GEORGE BROWN, who lived alone in a basement apartment, was buried by tons of brick and wood. He was not related to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown, parents of Debra and Cameron.

Many of the occupants plummeted in their beds into smoking debris in the basement when the blast let go at 12:45 a.m. The temperature stood at 45.

Only one person was injured seriously enough to require hospitalization.

An odor of gas lingered in the area for hours.

One man being helped from the basement told a police officer he had gotten up in the night to light a cigarette and the explosion occurred.

THE APARTMENT — a tenement type — was at 16th and Wyandotte Streets, on the west edge of the downtown business district.

Mrs. Russell Brown had returned to the apartment only Monday after giving birth Friday to a son, Roy Dean Brown. The Browns were in bed with the infant between them.

"I had just given Roy Dean his bottle and dozed off," Brown said. "I had my arm across him and was patting him. I woke up and felt everything shaking like an earthquake. Then everything fell through."

Brown, 47, was standing dazed at the west side of the building, nude except for a shirt wrapped around his waist when firemen arrived.

"MY WIFE," Brown cried. "My wife is in there and so are my kids." Brown was oblivious to a piece of glass that protruded from his foot.

Frank Glenn, 25, was stranded in a part of the second floor that remained standing. His three sons were with him. His wife was at work.

He grabbed the children and ran to the window, screaming for help. He saw a woman on the street about 20 feet below.

"I leaped as far out of the window as I could," he said, "and dropped the youngest boy (14 months old Frank) into the arms of the woman." Glenn and the other two children were taken down ladders by firemen.

Genealogical Library Reorganized

by Lacey Larson
Universe Staff Writer
The Genealogical Society Library in Salt Lake City is undergoing some very new and important changes, according to Norman E. Wright of the Genealogy Dept. of BYU's General College.

The Society has been reorganized to better serve the public. The public service offices have been consolidated under the Head Librarian, Delbert Roach, a former BYU Librarian.

The stacks are now open to the public. A person no longer need, to sign for a book. The library also has more personnel to supervise and assist the public.

WRIGHT STRESSED that the research department of the Society is emphasizing a "research into research program." As the trend is away from work on individual pedigrees, the Society is striving now to serve the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints as a whole.

The new research program will try to find better ways to use new records and to utilize old records.

The Genealogical Society has also hired a professional editor to help publish a periodical telling what new records have been found and how the records can better be put to use.

BILL WINDER, editor of the periodical, will summarize information received from researchers and put it into the publication, to be used by the entire Church.

The Society is also starting to publish books telling how to do genealogy work. Before this time, these books were written by individual persons.

Focus on Sports

Cream Or Skim Milk?

by Stan Hodge, Sports Editor

"Things are seldom what they seem, skim milk masquerades as cream." Little Buttercup sang those lines in Gilbert & Sullivan's H. M. S. Pinafore, but they could apply equally well to the recently closed football season.

Mr. Hodge

Little Buttercup was trying to straighten out a mixup caused by switcher children . . . the lowly sailor was in reality the captain. Again the unimpressive record marked by the Cougar gridder this fall becomes quite impressive when really examined.

"We may not bury anybody this fall," said in which it was stated "We don't expect it, but don't be surprised to see the Cougars giving the big ones a bit of a tussle." Shortly thereafter I received a letter stating, "C'mon, Stan, most people will be surprised to see them win a single game."

Could You Blame Them?

And who could really blame the fans for feeling that way? There were only a dozen lettermen returning from last year's club which had slumped to a disappointing 2-8 season record. Much of the weight was necessarily shifted to the sophomores with 19 first year men making the Varsity.

Everyone knew the first year would be a time for building for new head coach Tom Hudspeth, but the thin blue line, as the Cat eleven came to be known, showed there was a little more to this game than brute strength.

"We may not bury anybody this fall," said Hudspeth clear back before the season got underway, "but we'll bruise a few."

The young Mountain Cats were teachable, and in high spirits, anxious to get the football machine in motion. It was this desire to win . . . to perform at their highest level that made this year's team the winningest for a first year coach since 1949 when Eddie Kimball took over the coaching chores.

More Than Winning

But the three wins didn't tell the whole story either. The Cougars were one of the scrappiest eleven in the nation. Even when behind they maintained an interested audience because they never gave in. And with attitudes like that even defeats were victories.

So things are seldom what they seem. A season that looks poor from the record standpoint alone may turn out to be the prologue to BYU's day on the gridiron.

As I visited with Coach Hudspeth at the Varsity-Frosh game the other night, he made a good point. It wasn't only the team or the new stadium that made it a successful season, but more it was the fans who supported the Cats, win or lose, even braving a howling blizzard to watch them.

Fans Contribute to Season's Success

"We'd greatly appreciate it," he said, "if you would express our sincere thanks to the school leaders, flag twirlers, cheerleaders, and all the studentbody for the support they have given us this year. We really appreciate their support and will do everything we can to justify it. They are definitely as important a part of our department as anything else I know of."

Glad to, coach, and I'd like to add my thanks to his. A football team is nothing without fans and BYU showed the Cougars this year that they will never be without them. I for one really hope the same spirit and support will extend through the coming basketball season.

Coach Stan Watts believes, "We should be an improved team in most respects. We have good reinforcements in our sophomores, and I believe we can generate a good offense in the series ahead. Two of the schools, Arizona and Wyoming, should be stronger, since they have nearly all of their players returning. New Mexico, too, will be a threat if they get some replacements."

Pigskin Prognostications

Each week the Daily Universe attempts to predict the outcome of 12 of the top gridiron contests around the nation. Students and other readers may compete with the experts by turning in their picks to the Daily Universe office, 1317 Center. Each entry must be marked with the entrant's name and age so can be contacted.

The person turning in the best entry will be published this week with those of the standing prognostication. Entries must be submitted prior Friday 12:00 noon's winter. Merrill Beaser, was picked due to early publication of this post missed one game.

Open Bowling Or League! Choice's Yours

The spirit of bowling is on the upswing in the Y Center bowling lanes as league action moves into high gear.

LEADING THE STAFF LEAGUE are the Screwwalves with a 36-4 won-lost record, Gayle Yorganson, Hilton Burch, Doyle Thurston, Reed Bushard, Don Taylor and Le Grand Bundren comprise the body of this winning combination.

The King Pins have taken the lead in the student mixed-doubles league and have Sharon Olson, Susan Myers, Ruth Langol, Blake Napper as their team members.

TIED FOR HIGH game honors are Brent Sears and Bob Geogheue with games of 214.

In the Wednesday men's league the Four Thorns have stabled the first place position and they have taken 11 games losing only five. Their combination consists of LeRoy Shevers, Lynn Johnson, Lonnie Pererson and Blake Napper.

DAVE WRIGHT, chairman of the games committee says that applications are still being accepted for Wednesday night league bowling teams.

In spite of the interest in league bowling and the increased participation, open bowling is available each night with Sunday being the exception.

Tuesday night may be reserved by MIA's, in conjunction with their parties, but independent bowlers may also bow this night.

1. Now that we're 21 we have a lot more responsibility.

Now we make the decisions.

2. Right. And this year we've got a big decision to make—gets our vote for President.

I've already decided to vote for the candidate of my choice.

3. Your decision should be based on what the candidate stands for. For example, does your man's fiscal policy square with your philosophy on the matter?

I hope not. I never could handle money.

4. Then how do you expect to get out of the world, support wife, raise children, and two-car family?

I wish I knew.

5. Let me give you a piece of advice that will help you off to a good start.

I'd sure appreciate it.

6. Soon as you get a job, put some dough into cash-value insurance, the kind they call Living Insurance at Equi. It gives your wife and kid solid protection and it automatically builds a cash value you can use instead of retirement or whatever you want.

Say, why don't you run for President?

player of the week, but certainly one of the most important persons in BYU athletics, Coach Hudspeth.

Player of the Week . . .

John Ogden's Third

by Roger McVean
Universe Sportswriter

How to become the Player of the Week by really trying.

AT LEAST WHEN you try as hard as John Ogden has the battle's probably half won. At any rate he certainly has found the key to success in that area. This is the third time that he has received the free haircut.

Actually ALL Ogden did Saturday was carry the ball a total of 34 times to erase the old school record of 32 set by Eldon Fortie in 1962 and the conference record of 33 set by Joe Harris of New Mexico against ARIZONA this season. Ogden gained 143 yards against Wyoming for an average of 4.3 yards a try.

In so doing, Ogden overtook the Utes Allen Jacobs for the conference rushing lead. With the Utes schedule also completed his only challenger is over 200 yards back, making John the probable winner of the rushing title.

When the complete evaluation is in it will no doubt be recorded as a very successful season for the young man from Tarzana, Calif. He carried the ball a total of 179 times in ten games, gaining 175 yards and losing only six, for a season average of 4.3 yards per carry. Additionally he has been credited with three school records in the last two games: most touchdowns scored in one game (4), most rushes in one game (34, also WAC record), and most points scored in one game (24).

JOHN HAS BLOSSOMED into quite a Cougar fullback, and, only a sophomore, will be coming back next year.

With Ogden and boys like Virgil Carter, Kent Osborn, Kent Nance and Steve Ogden, to say nothing of the fine young line, Coach Hudspeth can, understandably, sort of look forward to next year with a gleam in his eye.

HE HAS A good nucleus on which to begin building his team and may be enjoying more success than he did this year.

Coach Hudspeth began his coaching career at BYU last January with the words, "I've come to stay." There are no indications that he's about to change that decision.

Hockey Team Endures; Two More in Colo.

Cougar Hockey Club will drive enough goals to weekend to add Saskatchewan to the three wins already from their belt. The club made it three in a weekend as it fed a College, 4-2 and 10-1 in Saturday series.

GARRINGER, first lined in two goals in the game. Also scoring were Ron and Ted Hargraves.

Friday night's game was a Canadian action. A contest right down the game was spiced with hard checking and a more adequate amount of pugilism.

KEER, a speedy forward Saskatchewan, Can., slap-shot goals and three assists. The Cougars in that game Bannister contributed goal but chalked up six to be at the top of the point total. The Cougars totaled two goals in Saturday's game. The Cougars also in the Cougar goal in the final game were Schmidt, Hargraves and Gille.

COUGAR GOALIE, Chuck Leo, stopped 17 shots in the final game while the Colorado gatekeeper was busy, blocking 40 attempts.

Friday and Saturday, the Cougars will host the University of Saskatchewan at Winter Gardens. This will be the first major test for the pucksters as Saskatchewan was a power-house of Canadian college hockey last year.
